FORMER RESIDENT MEMBERS

Before the union of the American Philosophical Society and the American Society into the American Philosophical Society held at Philadelphia for Promoting Useful Knowledge in 1769, there were members of both societies and members of either society. It is impossible to establish the date of election of many of these members.

Accordingly, in the list below, those marked "A" were members of the two societies at the time of the union, those marked "B" were members only of the American Philosophical Society, and those marked "C" were members only of the American Society. Following each name is the year of election to membership in the American Philosophical Society.

LISTS OF PAST SOCIETY MEMBERS

FORMER INTERNATIONAL MEMBERS

As in the case of Former Resident Members, the date of election is given with the exception of members elected before the union of the two Societies in 1769. Accordingly, in the list below, those marked "A" were members of the two societies at the time of the union, those marked "B" were members only of the American Philosophical Society, and those marked "C" were members only of the American Society.

This list is as accurate as it was possible to determine at this time. There are a number of question marks and blanks for names. Items in doubt are enclosed in brackets. Further study of the list will be made and anyone who can point out any inaccuracies or supply answers to the questions should do so. The same applies to the list of Former Resident Members.

Following each name is a notation of the country of the member as per the following table:

A	Austria	G	Germany	P	Portugal
